I’m a lifelong learner who is thrilled to have built my skills through a number of high-quality online learning platforms--Coursera, Udemy, edX, LinkedIn Learning, and Skillshare. These platforms have given me a way to gain industry-specific skills in [insert your industry: e.g. web development, data analysis, digital marketing, etc.]. I gained knowledge through leader courses and real-life projects. I have certifications and credentials from recognizable institutions like [e.g., Google, IBM, Harvard]. I have practical knowledge complemented by a lifelong learning mentality in an ever-changing landscape of digital-first growth priorities.
